Your memory is like a stone. As years go by, memories are chipped off in pieces. One day, something is seen or felt that puts one of these pieces back in place, if only for a short time.
Gather your fallen pieces.

voices of authority

principal's

message

This year's edition of the yearbook promises to be "something special". Dedicated and talented students have spent countless hours chronicling a year's worth of events in the life of our school. They have laboured long and hard organizing and presenting these events in unique fashion, attempting to place their distinctive "signature" on this year's volume. We all benefit from their vision of what a yearbook can be. The staff and administration of North Lambton Secondary School salute their efforts.

From past experience, a yearbook becomes one of your most valuable possessions. Keep it at all costs. When opened, it will instantly bring back warm memories of your high school days. You will remember friends, teachers, events, teams and classes that enhanced as well as enriched your life, in what hopefully was one of the best years ever.

K. Farquharson

council

"Not everything that is faced can be changed, but nothing can be changed until it is faced"

--James Baldwin

We as students of North Lambton come across issues every day which we all wish were different. Instead of saying, "I can change anything," we should ask, "What can I do to help?" You won't see change if you don't try.

The 2000/2001 council has faced the challenge of change. We needed to change the role of student council in the school and its ability to increase spirit and involvement in North Lambton. These have been lacking in the past. However, as president I can honestly say that this past year our student council was composed of enthusiastic, hard working individuals who have faced the challenge of change for you, the students. I saw an increase in activities and participation throughout the school which I hope has boosted some of our school's morale. I would also like to wish the future student council all the best and hope that you will continue changing things throughout the school.

Five weeks into the school year, graduating students, family, friends and significant others congregated in the school gym to celebrate a rite of passage, finally graduating from North Lambton. As Sharon Jimson put it, "It was great to see everyone again". All of those years of hard work and dedication were recognized this evening, through awards and receiving diplomas. As the nervous, excited grads struggled to find their caps and gowns, the gym quickly filled with anxious observers, fixing their cameras, trying to get the best view possible.

For musical entertainment, the Senior band performed O' Canada, and Pomp & Circumstance. To start off the evening, the Lambton Kent District School Board Trustee and Senior Administration gave their words of congratulations and welcome, then Mr. Moergli (A.K.A. Jungle Boy) stepped up to the microphone. Immediately, the formality of the evening came to an end, while Mr. Moergli gave his words of wisdom in the form of advice for surviving in the jungle. His humour and wisdom was for man the highlight of the evening. At the end, he stressed that the most important thing in life is to have fun, and not take anything too seriously. To the delight of the students, he then did his famous "Cell Rap". He had everyone in stitches, but also inscribed a message in the minds of the graduates, relaying to them that they are able to accomplish anything they set their minds to. "I loved Mr. Moergli's speech," said Trish Anderson.

The 133 graduates lined up to receive what they had revisited their school for in the first place, their diplomas, and rightfully deserved applause. The best part of the night for Adam Hawkins was "not tripping on the stairs", while Tim Clark felt that "getting the diploma" was worth a couple of hours of sitting in an uncomfortable chair. The Ontario Scholars were given their awards at a separate time. They each received an above 80% average in their OAC courses, which is quite an accomplishment. Awards and scholarships were happily received by the students who had worked so hard to earn them. Rob Rombouts felt that the night was worthwhile because he was able to "get money for awards." Brian Maxfield said "What I enjoyed most was when I sat in Mrs. Jared's throne after receiving my diploma. Does everyone remember that?"

Nicky Maxfield, the valedictorian, then stepped up to the podium. All eyes were on her as she compiled our old memories and future thoughts into a 4 minute speech. She congratulated the French Immersion graduates, who were the first bilingual students to successfully graduate from North Lambton. And, of course, she offered congratulations to all who were receiving their special piece of paper that night.

the final

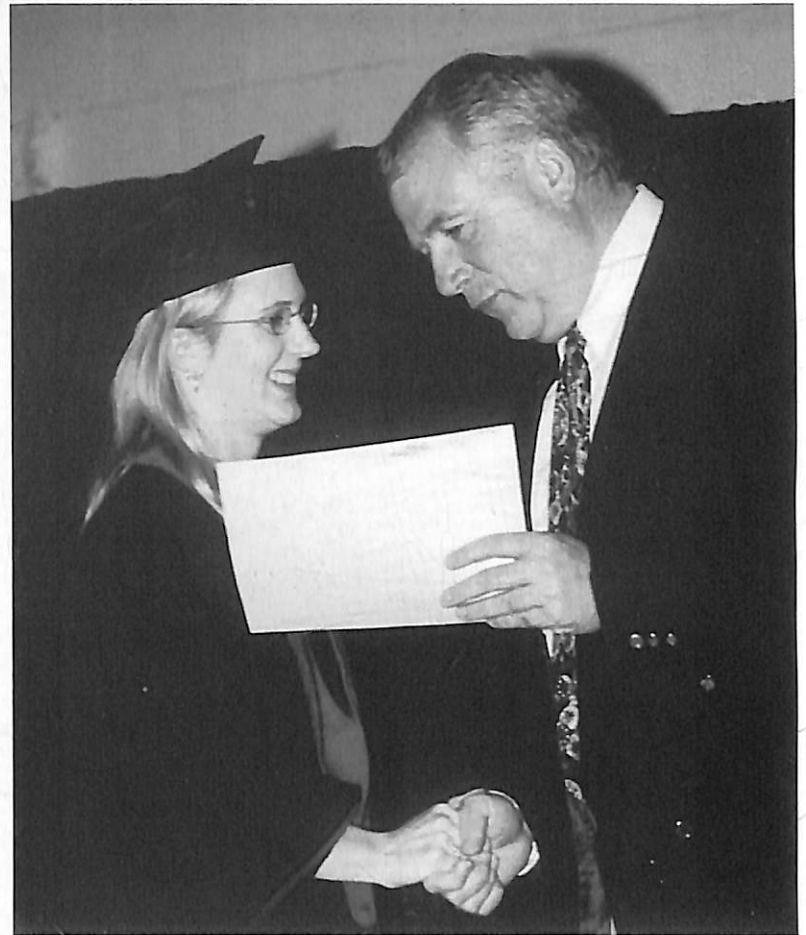

At the end, Nicky offered some words of advice. "Make balance in your life. Learn to cope with stress. Know when to let go and don't let minor details consume you. Take lots of time for yourself, your family and friends and maintain what keeps you happy and healthy. There are important decisions to make, so use your spirit to succeed. Keep all the memories of high school close because they are the foundation of who you are."

Mr. Moergeli has the audience in stitches as he performs his "Cell Rap", following up his performance as The Jungle Boy. Next stop for Mr. Moergeli? He refuses to say, but underground information leads us to believe a stint on MTV might just be in the works.

Maybe we'll be friends forever,
Maybe we'll slowly drift apart,
Maybe we'll stay the same next year,
Maybe you won't even recognize me.
But we'll always have the memories of childhood,
Of laughter, of carefree days,
And it is within each other that we shall truly be young forever.

for what I am when I am with you.

I love you not only for what you have made of yourself, but for what you are making of me.

I love you for the part of me that you bring out.

I love you for putting your hand into my heaped-up heart and passing over all the foolish and frivolous and weak things that you can't help dimly seeing there, and for drawing out into the light all the beautiful radiant belongings that no one else had looked quite far enough to find.

I love you for ignoring the possibilities of the fool and weakling in me, and for laying firm hold on the possibilities of the good in me.

I love you for closing your ears to the discords in me, and for adding to the music in me by worshipful listening.

I love you because you are helping me to make of the timber in my life not a tavern, but a temple, and of the words of my every day not a reproach, but a song.

I love you because you have done more than any creed could have done to make me happy.

You have done it without a touch, without a word, without a sign.

You have done it first by being yourself.

On wings like eagles
You take me high where angels cry
Glory forever!

Looking back we had a dream
History we will make
Let the broken let the strong
Live our lives as a song
Thank You
You're the one who keeps it true
Always You are the fire in me

The shared memories brought smiles, laughter, a few tears, and at last, a sense of contentment. For slowly, from our treasured memories a kindred bond began to emerge.

That's how it is with people sometimes. When you least expect it, a common thread -- golden, at that -- begins to weave together the fabric of friendship.

student council

The Class of 2001 is a group of graduating students involved in planning various events throughout the school year. This year's executive was: Kristin Redmond, President; Ange Swenson, Vice-President; Meghan VanKessel, Secretary; and Steve Hales, Treasurer. The Class of 2001 organized Commencement, the Welcome Back dance, Semi-Formal -- with a Jungle Fever theme, Pajama Day, the Variety Show and, of course, Prom. The theme for Prom this year was A Knight in Camelot. All events were a huge success. The Class' gift for 2001 was a comfy couch in the library, to allow students relaxing reading.

Good luck from this year's graduating class to all future grads!

This year our student council started off with a revolution. With Mrs Matthews taking the gauge from Mr. Shafer as student council's new staff advisor change was in the wind. For the first few months of this past year meetings were held in the math pod and a new revised constitution was written to take the student council into the next millennium. Once the constitution was completed, competition heated up for elections. After an interesting campaign the executive for the student council was chosen. With Ashley Kelders as president, the student council plowed ahead and organized many fun and exciting events throughout the school year.

The annual spring fashion show was brighter and hotter than ever. Everyone involved helped the show to live up to its name of "Hawaii Heat" by displaying the newest trends for summer with confidence. Carla Lenting and Katie Patterson, the emcees, happily guided eyes from casual wear to beach wear to the grand finale — evening wear! Several door prizes were received throughout the show, with thanks to generous local merchants. Everyone in attendance walked out with an even stronger longing for sandals, sun, and smoothies.

star search extraordinaire

Wow! Who ever knew our school had such talent? Yet again, Class of 2001 worked really hard to put out a spectacularly fun event. Students paid $1.50 to get out of Period B and see the performance of the century. Winning the competition were the hip Fly Girls, featuring Chris Campbell break dancing. Coming in a close second place were Jessica and her gang, wowing the audience with their musical talent, singing "Mr. Jones" plus more. And we were all amazed with Blair Willert and Mike Callan's fabulous rendition of "Outside", snagging third place. Congratulations to all participants who gathered enough courage to show North Lambton your stuff!

1. Jessica Henry, Shawn Rumford, and Brian Maxfield grabbed second place with their "Mr. Jones". You sing it, girl!

2. And the winners are ... Fly Girls! Jessica Henry, Jenne Campbell, and Kristen Redmond congratulate the first-place team of Chris Campbell, Brianne Hutton, Monique DeVet, and Jessica Gatschene.

3. With Jessica Henry's help, Jenne Campbell tried to find her hidden talent. At least we all know it isn't cracking jokes!

4. Blair Willert and Mike Callan show their musical talents to an amazed gymnasium full of students.

5. "Go Chris! Go Chris! It's your birthday!" Chris Campbell break-dances in front of the entire gymnasium -- now that takes courage and balance!

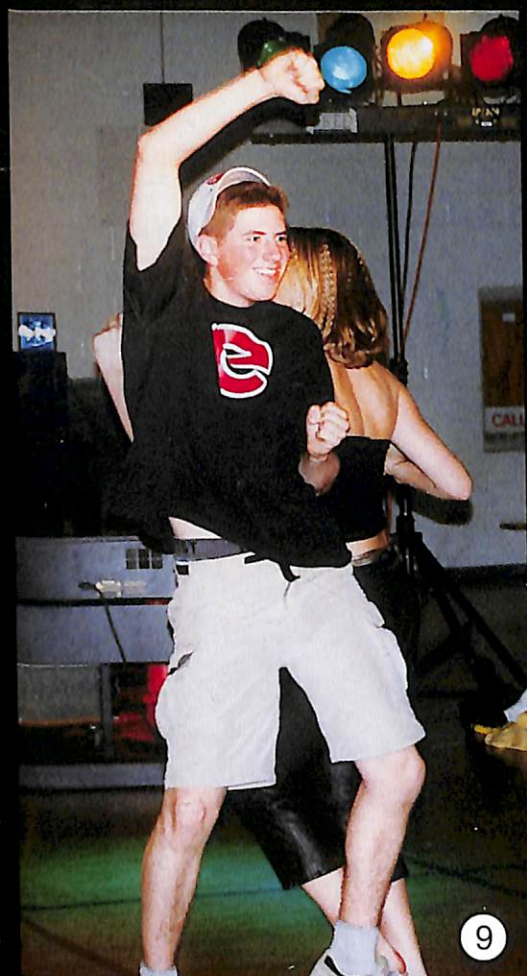

6. Save the last dance for me! Brianne Hutton and Jessica Gatschene move to the beat.

from Rome to Athens

The trip began with a three-hour bus ride and three very tiring plane flights. It started getting better as soon as we landed in Rome, but the security guards with machine guns and big dogs were a truly foreign and scary thing to see. Next we met our extremely dubious tour guide, Helen. She taught us a little bit of Italian as we drove. Every time we got on the bus she said "Buon giorno – good morning – Buon giorno. How is everybody doing?" Groans (or snores) were the responses that she usually got from many of her 6:00 am tourists. For the entire trip, Mr. Moergeli (or Jimbo) ate everything he could find. Touring Rome was so much fun and only one set of airplane tickets went missing! The Colosseum was a spectacular site to see. Just thinking about the gladiators that had fought there so long ago was mind blowing. At the Roman Forum we discovered Mrs. J would have been considered a piece of architecture if she had lived in Roman times because forty was considered a ripe old age. The Spanish Steps were fun too, but a trip into "Gucci" was simply shocking as we noticed a tank top for over $500! Michelangelo's ceiling in the Sistine Chapel was more beautiful than any of us could have imagined. The ancient ruins of Pompeii were the last site we visited before we left for Greece. We met lots of other Canuks touring with EF on the boat ride over. Once we arrived in Greece, we visited the site of the first Olympics at Olympia. Then we took a drive through the Greek mountains that made half of us sick! All of us were scared as the driver, (who may or may not have been slightly drunk) raced other vehicles over roads bordered by cliffs with no guardrails. Next it was on to Athens where a trip to the Acropolis and the night out on the town at "Lavabore" was one of the best days of the trip. A trip to Delphi forced Mama J and Papa McLean to chase a few "friendly" boys away from some of the girls. The plane rides on the way back were better than the ones on the way there, but most of us slept through them because we were so tired! Finally we were on the way home to North Lambton with lots of souvenirs and stories to tell.

Creativity is part of our nature, so it's a good thing it is also a part of the high school art curriculum! North Lambton art classes range from grade nine introductory to the newly introduced OA level and art media courses. As art culture continues to grow and evolve around the world, our own students have been pouring out some especially unique and successful pieces. We're proud to display them here, knowing that any original art work is a priceless masterpiece. But, really, I should let these great works speak for themselves ...

absolute power

The Music Executive is one of the most unknown organizations at North Lambton. A collection of senior music students comes together at the start of every year with only one goal in mind -- power!

These power-hungry students are in charge of all sorts of things, from organizing fundraisers to choosing which bus music students will be trapped on for the twelve hour ride to Quebec City. This year the Music Exec. has run five very successful fundraisers (from cheese to pointsettias to scratch cards) as well as organizing two music nights and a trip for several senior music groups to Quebec City.

twelve hours on a bus

It was early Friday morning as the music students gathered outside the school. Some brute force was required to load the buses, but before long, we were on our way. The bus ride was long, but full of interesting surprises - like our "neighbours" in Montreal rush hour, playing cards in their laps. The continual rivalry between the buses came to its head when Trish Anderson was kidnapped from her bus and held for ransom. All we wanted was our movie back, Bus 2, really! In our whirlwind tour of Quebec City, we saw many notable sights, from Montmorency Falls to a wood carving shop, complete with story! Still, the best part of the day was the mall tour, with purchases ranging from the standard clothes right through to Scott Cates' rollerblades! Early Sunday morning, we got up and headed to the location for our instrumental performance. Waking up quickly, both bands performed exceptionally well, to the praise of the adjudicators. Vocal Connection followed, at a location across town, and then we were done! We immediately set out to enjoy our time left in Quebec City, complete with free time in the Old Quarter!

The evening banquet was amusing, with performances from Celine Dion, Michael Jackson, and numerous others. The meal was well prepared, and the dance afterward was enjoyed by many students. Back at the hotel, after several hours of relaxation, we all headed to bed. Well ... most of us, anyway.

Congratulations to all the musicians on their Superior and Excellent performances -- a job well done!

The North Lambton music department is one of the most active departments in the school. Almost eighty percent of the students at North Lambton will take at least one music credit in the course of their high school career. The music department is divided into two main sections, the larger instrumental program and the vocal program.

Both programs are very involved with the community.

The instrumental part of our program consists of a junior band, intermediate band, and senior band, as well as intermediate and senior jazz ensembles. Every other year our senior ensembles are professionally adjudicated at music festivals around North America. Both the jazz and senior concert music appreciation

bands have traditionally done extremely well.

The vocal program is smaller, but no less active in the community. With a junior vocal ensemble and our highly esteemed choir, Vocal Connection, we have a very strong vocal program. The Vocal Connection also participates in music festival competitions, and have built for themselves an untainted record of superior performances.

be, or not to be that is the question

The Drama department has been busy this year! The Christmas assembly saw two performances to please the crowd. Miss Sippel and her students performed the ever-popular Christmas segment from "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown." The dance sequence was a big hit, along with Schroeder's famous piano music. The grade twelve class, under the direction of Mr. Dumais, provided us with their version of the popular T.V. comedy show, "Whose Line is it Anyway?"

This improvisation-based show proved that the drama students of North Lambton have great creativity and imagination.

The second semester has also been busy, with a Drama Mask Workshop in April, and a comedy-mystery, "And Then There Was One," during the month of May. The school was transformed into a tropical island paradise, as ten strangers had to solve a mystery. Lots of laughs and great fun was had by all.

what's your function?

I would argue that the English Department is North Lambton's finest. Then again, I would argue that English class is, in general, superior to all others. (Because I am an English student I would, naturally, win the argument.) This year OAC English with Mr. Fitch was an especially riveting seventy-five minutes of attendance games, Spork, and Knechtels' candies. It may well be the only class I ever had which I usually looked forward to attending. Thanks, Mr. Fitch!

Miss Sippel, I will forever live by "the sweater lecture." I just hope you do not mind if that means I never quite finish my ISP ... (but the multi-coloured paper looks nice).

Mr. Harrington, we're going to miss you! I still remember how to fold that aeroplane — although, I remember the endless notes more vividly. (If I ever do forget, I kept the lot of them to remind me.)

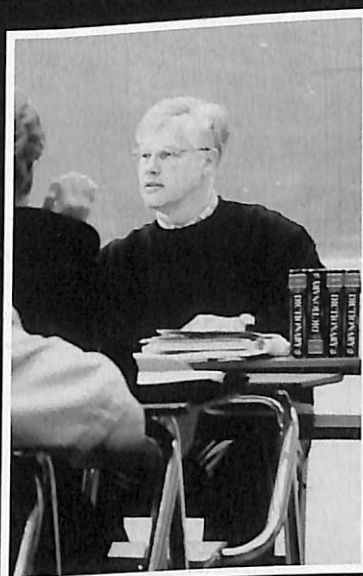

Thanks again for Norton's!

Finally, who could forget the spectacular Mr. Warren? Thank you for the introduction to Shakespeare and analytical thought. If I had had my way, you would have been my teacher all the way through.

For any of you mathematicians out there who do not appreciate the symbolism in Lord of the Flies, the brilliance of Dickens, the glory of Milton: all I can say is ... too bad you have to get five credits, eh? I guess whomever determined diploma requirements understood exactly what high school English has taught me: there is no greater, more vital subject in all the world!

parlez-vous?

As a former member of the Bosanquet and North Lambton French immersion community, it is sad to see the program coming to an end. I have had thirteen great years with my very familiar class;

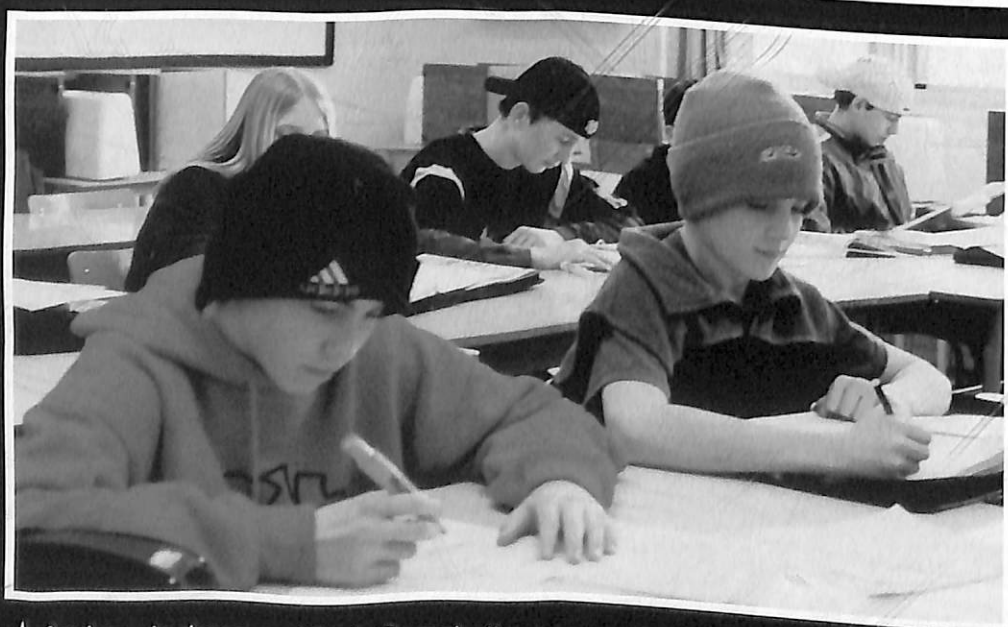

the first French immersion class to graduate from North Lambton. The next class has only four students, as does the one following that. Many students have crossed over to the regular French classes. As the years go on, French immersion classes will slowly decrease in size until they become obsolete. But don't worry, there will always be French class for those who wish to experience for themselves the joy of learning another language.

And today, we bring you French, live from room 300, with your host, Mme. Goldhawk. We break in at the middle of the morning announcements ...

Mlle Kingdon's students are learning French... but first they are learning that learning French means a lot of hard work!

Boozhoo. Aniishnaa?

Hello. How are you?

This is the way we greet each other.

In Ojibwe, students who participate in this course, get the opportunity to learn and speak the language. That's not all! We also learn how to do various native crafts. This gives us the chance to learn our culture and heritage.

To learn and speak this language, or any other, you need to have respect, patience and confidence. Without these, it can become frustrating.

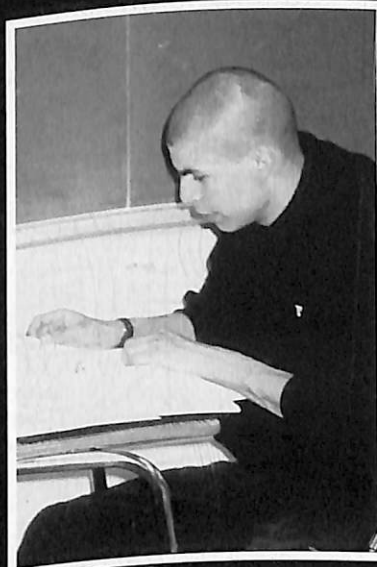

In Ojibwe we also have fun, and we're always among friends.

Anyone can learn this language.

family studies: a credit for life

In no other subject can you learn as much about real life as you do in family studies. In which other discipline can you take home a baby that cries throughout the day (... and night) to love, care for, bathe and comfort? Unfortunately, my baby, Sabine, was set on "cranky" which really enhanced the experience -- with bags under my eyes to prove it!

In classes such as Housing, Clothing and Fashion Arts, students are able to express their creativity in many ways. You soon learned that everyone has different ways of expressing his/herself ...

The final family studies course that many people take is OAC Canadian Families. This years' class, led by an enthusiastic teacher, Mrs. Blenkhorn, organized the white ribbon campaign in the school. Students went from class to class, discussing and distributing the anti-violence white ribbons. Donations were collected and given to charity. Along with a massive independent study, many different topics were studied. (Along with learning that boys cost $3,000 more to raise than girls do.)

A word of caution, if any boys plan to take "Canfam," or any other family studies course, be prepared to be centered out. You might want to join the class with a friend!

Robin Backx

All you ever wanted to know and were afraid to ask about living! Your questions can be answered by taking family studies. If you want your house to be the tops in décor -- take housing!

If you want to have perfect meals, no scorching -- take foods!

If you want to wear the latest clothes -- take fashion! If you want experience in handling crying, whining babies -- take parenting!

And if you ever want to be famous, you can strut your stuff in the annual fashion show. This year our fashion show was entitled "Hawaii Heat."

Mr. Glen, in his final year of teaching, taught a cast of some of the brightest, liveliest and best kids in the school (so, we're a little bit biased, just keep reading!). Sometimes we started the day with some warm-up trivia questions that gave everyone in his classes a chance to use their pools of useless knowledge. Mr. Glen gave us the chance to win two million dollars! It was actually a quarter or sometimes a toonie, but to us it felt like millions!

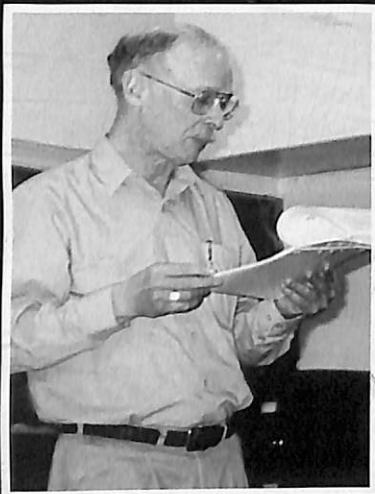

Among other activities in geography class, we were blessed to experience special, extra-fun field trips. Students were allowed to take a special sneak peek at Mr. Glen's favorite movie, HOOSIERS.

Finally, the best time we had in geography was in the last two weeks of the semester when we were "studying" all class every class. Almost every day we took mini field trips to Tim Hortons. Orders were taken and filed, and everyone left geography a happy camper!

This year's history classes did in fact, make history. The students of Mr. McLean's American History class were the last group that would go through that class before it underwent curriculum changes. Mr. McLean kept it interesting with lots of interactive learning events, including a re-enactment of the First Continental Congress, during which the United States of America did not form and a re-enactment of the Civil War in which the South came out victorious. Each day in the class was a competition to see if Kyle Quinn, Blair Fraser or Mike Bragg would be asked to be quiet first! Both of the OAC Modern Western Civilization classes were filled with many interesting seminars and presentations. Robyn Doolittle and Kristen Hutton presented the ideas of Thomas Hobbes and John Locke dressed as the two famous philosophers. Stephanie McClennan and Sarah Vodden taught the first semester class about abstract art, and allowed them to make some art of their own with some rather interesting results. Mike Bragg and Kyle

"be quiet, Kyle!" (aka: OAC history)

Quinn made a collective masterpiece and named it "Money, Cash." The OAC class also often turned into a large argument, both in and out of the formal debate sessions. The genetic revolution, Truman, the atomic bomb, Stalin's leadership... Both senior level history classes from the first semester also joined Mr.

Glen's World Issues class to hear a speech by Gwynne Dyer at SCITS in Sarnia. This presentation was both interesting and informative, giving the students a new look at our Canadian identity and offered a welcome break from the books for all of the students involved.

I never thought that being a kindergarten teacher would be so much work. You have to prepare, cut and have all crafts ready ahead of time. You have

The manufacturing department at North Lambton is looking forward to the arrival of several exciting new pieces of equipment this spring. An upgrade of the Computer Numerical Control devices in both the manufacturing and woodworking shops should soon allow students to take their design creations and make them reality.

This will allow students to design their creations entirely on the computer, and then have the codes for the actual work programmed by the computer for use with the lathe, router, or mill. This technology will finally upgrade the machines at North Lambton to true twenty-first century capabilities.

Manufacturing is often thought of as a class where the entire goal is to "get dirty". Nothing could be farther from the truth, as was revealed by Mrs. Ward, machine shop teacher here at North Lambton. Her manufacturing students work in such diverse areas as machining, welding (arc, MIG, and oxy-acetylene), stained glass, silversmithing, and sheet-metal work. Also, each is expected to have skills complementary to the neighbouring wood shop, in order to transfer their abilities to different mediums.

Mrs. Ward, Mr. Schalk, Mr. Vander Velden, and Mr. Gordon all agree that tech is "the kind of place where someone who enjoys working with their hands can find an outlet for their creative talent."

If you are interested in machining or any sort of work in the shops, but aren't able to take a shop class, you might also want to consider Mrs. Ward's manufacturing club, which meets some lunch hours during the week.

to help and to learn

The technical department at North Lambton is involved in teaching students cross-disciplinary talents. Every year, the Manufacturing and Woodworking departments join together to allow some of their senior students to work on a community-oriented project.

In past years this project has extended to include retrofitting and upgrading work on the Kiwanis Train (seen each year in the Forest parades), a bridge for former teacher Mr. Jensen, a shed for a Habitat For Humanity project, and even as far as the trophy case displayed prominently in the main foyer of our school.

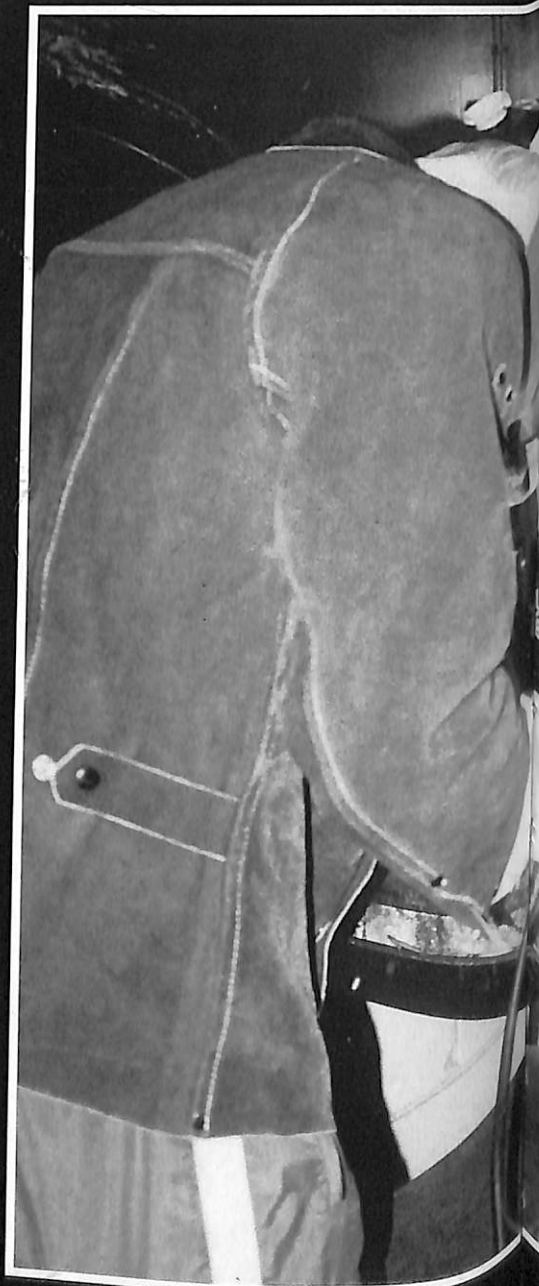

As well, the students involved in these projects are given the opportunity to construct custom indoor and outdoor furniture.

champions!

This past November, several members of the North Lambton cross country team attended the OFSAA championships, in Brampton. Jason Fuller, Andrea Brouwer, and mascot David Burr represented North Lambton.

After an excruciating drive, in which the team got lost a total of three times, the athletes arrived at their hotel. Dropping off their bags, the team walked through their courses, getting the lay of the land for the championship race. Andrea ran her race as a senior girl, despite being technically only a junior. As a 15-year old, running against 17-year olds, Andrea did not do as well as she would have liked. Placing in the top fifty runners in Ontario is a feat worthy of accolade!

Later that day, Jason competed in his race. Facing a tough field, he was unable to place as well as he has in the past, but still managed to defeat 80% of the field. Placing 51st out of countless thousands of senior boys in the province is an incredible feat -- congratulations, Jason!

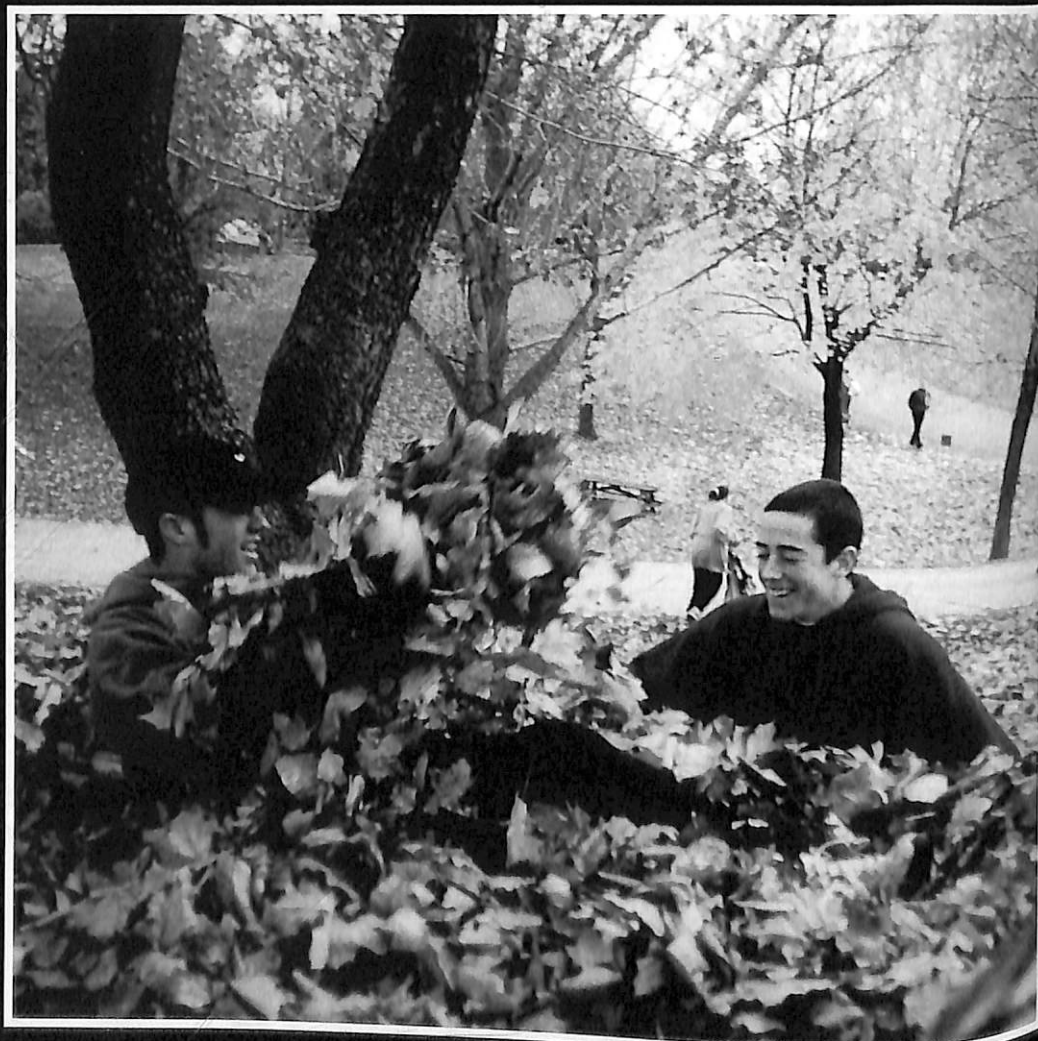

While some may think that the competitors did not do very well based upon their final finishes, the fact that they competed at the Ontario level and represented their school with pride is something to be congratulated! Amazing work, Jason and Andrea!

▲ Jason looks confident before his race, as he should!

► Andrea of old or Andrea of today -- either way she is an incredible athlete!

work and reward

The grueling hours of strenuous training paid off this year for the cross country team. Mr. MacDonald and Cathy Frasier helped tune the athletes and prepare them for tough competition. Aside from individual performance, this season was strong with team performances.

The real excitement of the season started at LSSAA. The team enjoyed playing in the mud but also had an outstanding performance by having the entire team make their way to the SWOSSA level of competition. While everyone had an excellent finish at SWOSSA, Jason Fuller and Andrea Brouwer finished at the top and moved on to OFSAA.

Optimism and celebration flooded the atmosphere of the team bus as they made their way home. Overall, the cross-country team had a very successful season, and is looking forward to the next season as well, welcoming new team members.

we came, we saw, we hit the ball really hard

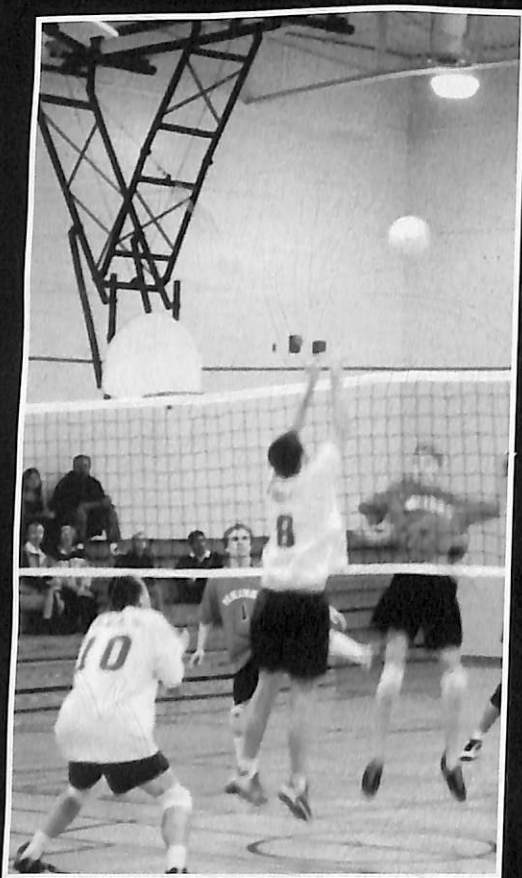

This year our senior boys volleyball team had a big year — in a variety of ways. Big in numbers: 18 boys saw action this season. Big in size: six regulars taller than 6' (180cm). Big in achievements: 1st place in regular season play with an impressive 26-1 record!

In the playoffs, the boys were hoping to fly off with a repeat of their LSSAA championship in '99-00. However, after defeating Northern 3-1 in semi-final action, the boys had to play St. Clair in the finals. This was the third consecutive year that our Eagles had met the Colts from St. Clair in the LSSAA final. St. Clair had won in 1998, we won in 1999, and it was their turn again in 2000 as they swept our Eagles 3-0 in some close, intense action. Following the LSSAA final, we hosted Chatham-Kent in a SWOSSA semi-final, only to lose 3-0 to a very talented team.

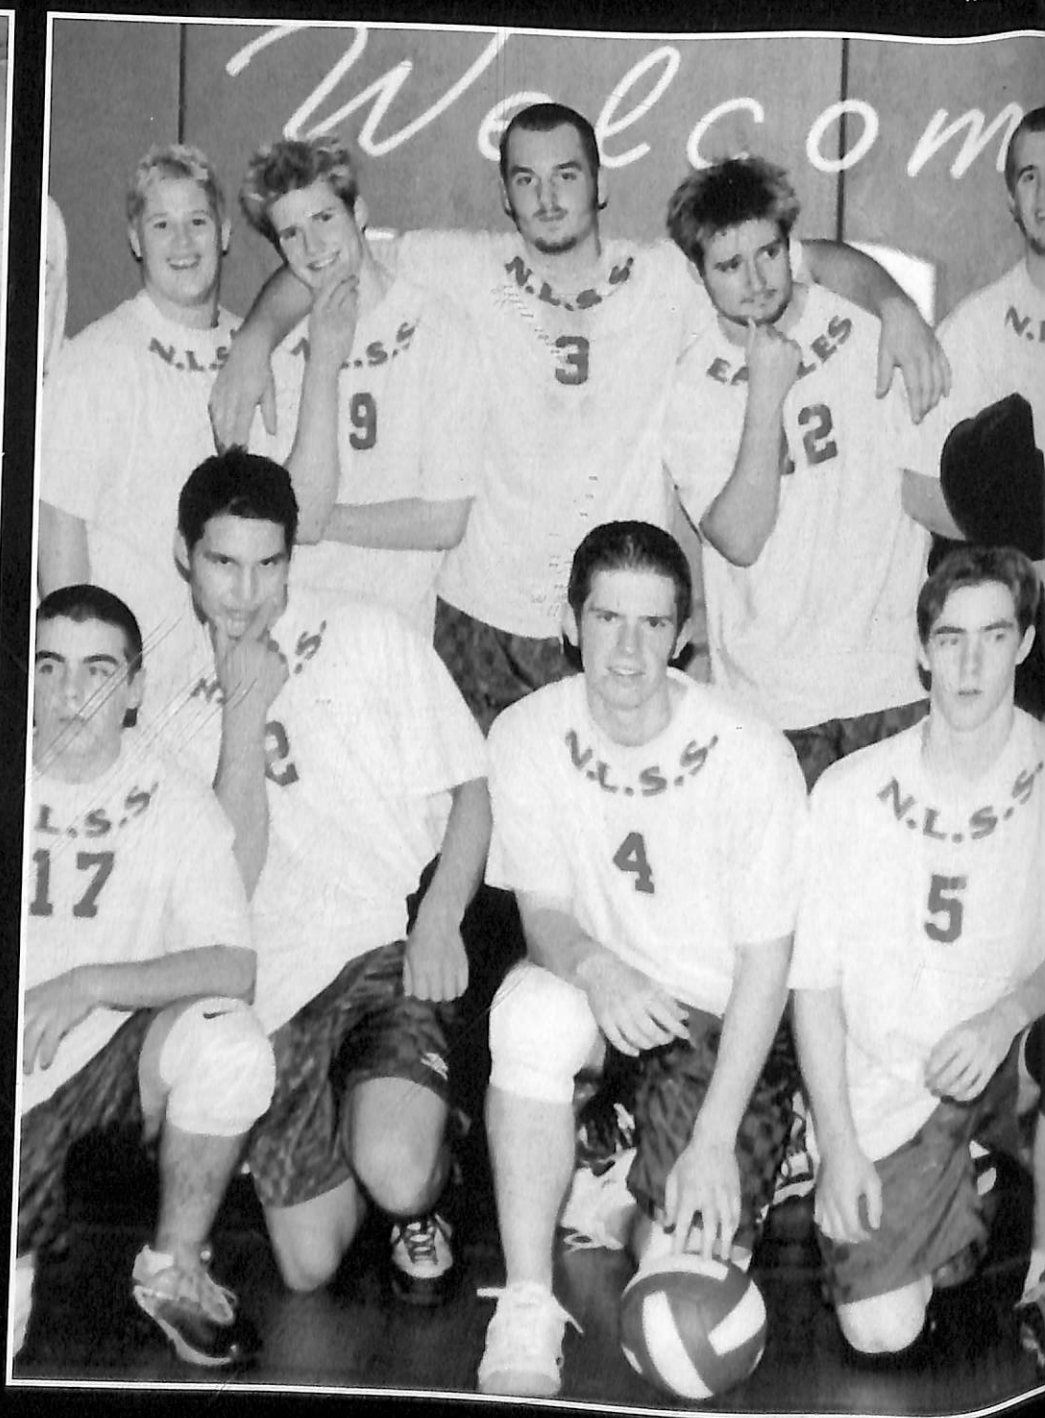

Over the season, the team showed excellent progress as the players learned a more sophisticated offence and improved their defensive skills. Some individual highlights were: Mike Marsh's awesome attacks all season and his gutsy play in the LSSAA final with a broken hand; James Legue's terrific leadership as our number one setter, ending the season with a team-high 38 digs and a team second-best 21 blocks. Jay Cooper led the team with 19 aces, and Spencer Donald had a perfect serving record, going 4 for 4 to achieve an amazing 100% service accuracy.

Lastly, one of the most memorable things about the Eagles of 2000 was the eighteen players, coming from three different schools in 1999, blended together to achieve some high-flying success. Great job, boys!

flying high

The badminton club and team have long been a part of North Lambton's sports regime. However, due to the extracurricular uncertainty that occurred during the early school year, Badminton was postponed ... until one week before LSSAA!! Coach McDonald graciously stepped in at the last minute so that we could participate in the last-minute-LSSAA tournament, organized by the teachers at Northern. Despite having time for only two practices, the ever amazing badminton team pulled off an amazing show with seven juniors and a number of senior players placing in the top three and progressing to the SWOSSAA level competition.

if it's in the game, it's in the game

Although the senior boys' basketball team failed to win a game all season, nobody even thought of quitting. Even with the odds stacked against us, we always fought hard. I was once told that every year you get bigger, stronger, smarter but yet the game slows down a little. I can't help but think that all of that happened to our team. Next year, watch out, because we will be turning heads!

This was the first year in history that North Lambton fielded a woman's squad. The girls were victorious and this was a historical first for North Lambton. The girls also had a brilliant second-place finish at SWOSSA and are heading for the OFSAA finals in May 2001. Best of luck to all. North Lambton is proud of all you've already done!

the hype meets reality

From the initial hype produced by Mrs. J's take-off on "The Night Before Christmas" to the excitement of the game, the North Lambton 2000-2001 Alumni Game was full of fun and laughter for all.

With such illustrious alumni as Jamie Johnson, Dusty Jamieson, and John McIntyre, the teachers could have been accused of stacking the deck. But we would never do that!!! Instead, we prefer to insinuate that perhaps they gave themselves just a little bit too much of an advantage. You know teachers -- give them an inch and they'll take a mile (or two!). The game was well-played by both teams, with the final result being hotly contested...

Unfortunately, the teachers won. Of course, the students claim they cheated -- but would they do that?

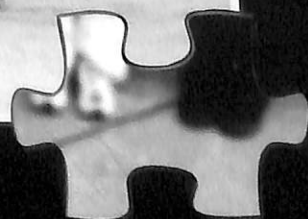

▶ Mr. Moergeli and Jessica-Lynn Henry call the shots at the big game.

▶ Brianne Hutton displays the Eagle jersey with pride.

▶ Face-off! Know who's who in this mass of Eagle students and teachers?

eagle pride

The girls kicked off a great season this year with an excellent showing at LSSAA in October. The girls were undefeated in round robin play, but met their match in the final game against SCITS. The girls fought hard but lost 4-2. This second place finish earned the Eagles a trip to OFSAA for the second year in a row. It was held in Pembroke, Ontario, just outside of Ottawa.

All members of the team would like to thank the student coaches, Tyler Faulds, Patty Sutton, Dalton Jones and Ed Campbell. The team would also like to thank Mrs. Johnson for all of her hard work and dedication.

The excellent mix of girls provided a great team atmosphere and they always displayed commendable sportsmanship and exceptional team spirit.

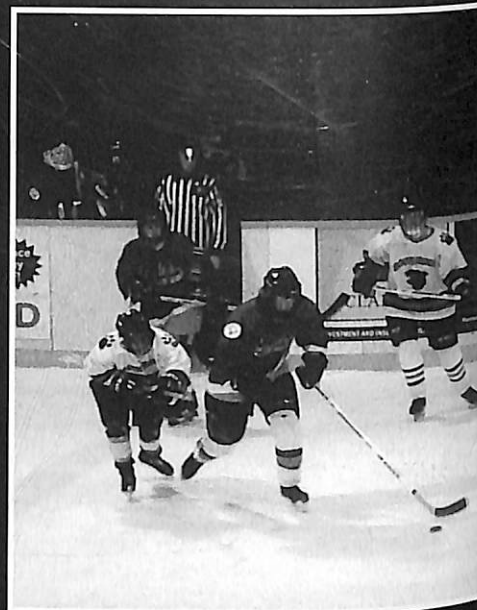

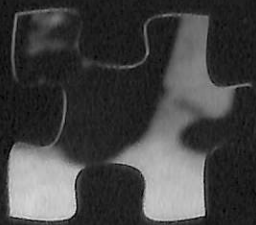

Way to go Eagles!!!

▲ Jen Kingdon, girls hockey team member, stops to tell our photographer how the last game went.

▶ Captain Meghan VanKessel and team member Jessica Gatschene carry the puck past the outmatched South Huron squad on their way to another goal.

▶ Bring Your Own Banana madness, as the girls hockey team raises money for their OFSAA trip. A variety of fundraisers were run this year by the girls, in order to provide the money needed by the team to travel "in style" to Ottawa for the tournament.

▶ Another successful stop by goalie Kristen Redmond. Their opponents constantly came up against a strong defensive squad, stopping everything thrown at them.

let's go Eagles, let's go!

OFSAA girl's hockey in Ottawa started off with a bang! Everyone was raring to go when we set off Monday afternoon in our then-thought-of-as-extremely-comfortable coach bus. We got the music going and managed to pop in our first of a record nine movies for our viewing pleasure. Bright and early Tuesday we set off to shop until we dropped. Some of the team ventured to Parliament Hill to witness first-hand the workings of our government. They were shocked to watch the immature ramblings of our national leaders — whining something about a golf course!

After a delicious Italian buffet, we retired to our second hotel, only to find our opposing teams staying right across the hall. I hear there was some competitive banter going on between our male coaches and the other teams in the good old hot tub! Thinking only of hockey strategy, we went to bed dreaming of gold in OFSAA.

Off to a shaky start, the Eagles didn't soar quite high enough in our first game against Sudbury. We were beaten 5-1, with our lone goal being scored by Jen Duff. Losing no confidence and motivation, we warmed up for our second game by dancing it up to chacha slide, led by none other than Jess Gatschene. Here we met the mighty Eagles from Clinton. Eagles vs. Eagles — we fought hard until the end losing a very close match 2-1. Our goal was scored by Josta Cole. Our spirits were still high and we definitely won for best dressed at the banquet that night with our synchronized white shirt and tie apparel. Some of the younger girls even got their picture taken with the doorman!

With an early final game Thursday morning we got back to the hotel and went right to bed, or so Mrs. Johnson thought! This was not before some strange events such as water buckets being exchanged at doors.

Thursday morning the Eagles came out victorious with a 4-1 win against Toronto. Goals for this game were scored by Josta Cole (2), Taran Spruyt and Leah Fraser. We then began the excruciating eight hour trip home — not quite as comfortable as the ride there! Still, we saw some great movies. The eagles played with class and distinction the entire OFSAA tournament and always kept a positive attitude. Way to go Eagles!

OF S A A bronze!

The North Lambton curling teams almost missed the season due to a late start. The girls' and boys' teams both entered the Gore School Girl/Boy Bonspiel in Petrolia, with the girls curling well but failing to advance to the regional level. The boys' team won the "A" Championship at Zones, advancing to Chatham for the regionals. The boys played in both the "A" and "B" championship games, but failed to advance.

Both teams curled in Sarnia at LWOSSA, with the girls placing third, and the boys placing second. Both teams then advanced to the SWOSSA level, the girls in Windsor and the boys in Sarnia. The boys' team won SWOSSA and qualified for OFSAA 2001 Curling, held this year in Sudbury. They were seeded number one in the province heading into OFSAA, and managed to achieve a 3-1 record in round-robin play.

They then advanced to the finals through their victory over Manitoulin. The boys' loss to Moira put them into the playoffs for the bronze medal. The boys curled against York Mills, winning, and received third place -- an OFSAA bronze medal!

Brad Willert coached the teams, the school advisor was Bev Fenner, and many thanks go to Ken Illman for accompanying the boys to OFSAA as a teacher representative.

Congratulations to all the curlers - you deserve it!

Bev Fenner

when you're this big, they call you Mr.

This year's senior boys' soccer team consisted of many skilled players: Trevor Vandenkoer, Patty Sutton, Jason Lithgow, Dalton Jones, Ashley Shawnoo, Kyle Quinn, Kyle Hurlock, Lee Geerts, John Groening, Andrew Timmers, Ryan Murdock, Adam Gilliard, Colin Henderson, Mike Bragg, Greg DeVet, Les McEwen, Rodger Brissett, Dan DeGroot and Johnny Williamse.

Many games were won, a major highlight being the game in which our team held LCCVI to one goal -- even though they were the OFSAA champs! All the players remember Mike Bragg's season fondly; "I don't know how to play, but I like to run a lot!" And, of course, Lee Geerts' socks were legendary, and a definite fashion statement that the whole team will look into for next year! Kyle "Hip Check" Hurlock kept the pace of the game at a maximum, as did Andrew "Iron Man" Timmers who played full games without a break.

A hearty thanks goes out to the parent coaches who volunteered their time to make this year a success. And to the Eagles -- awesome season, boys!

we're mobile, agile, hostile

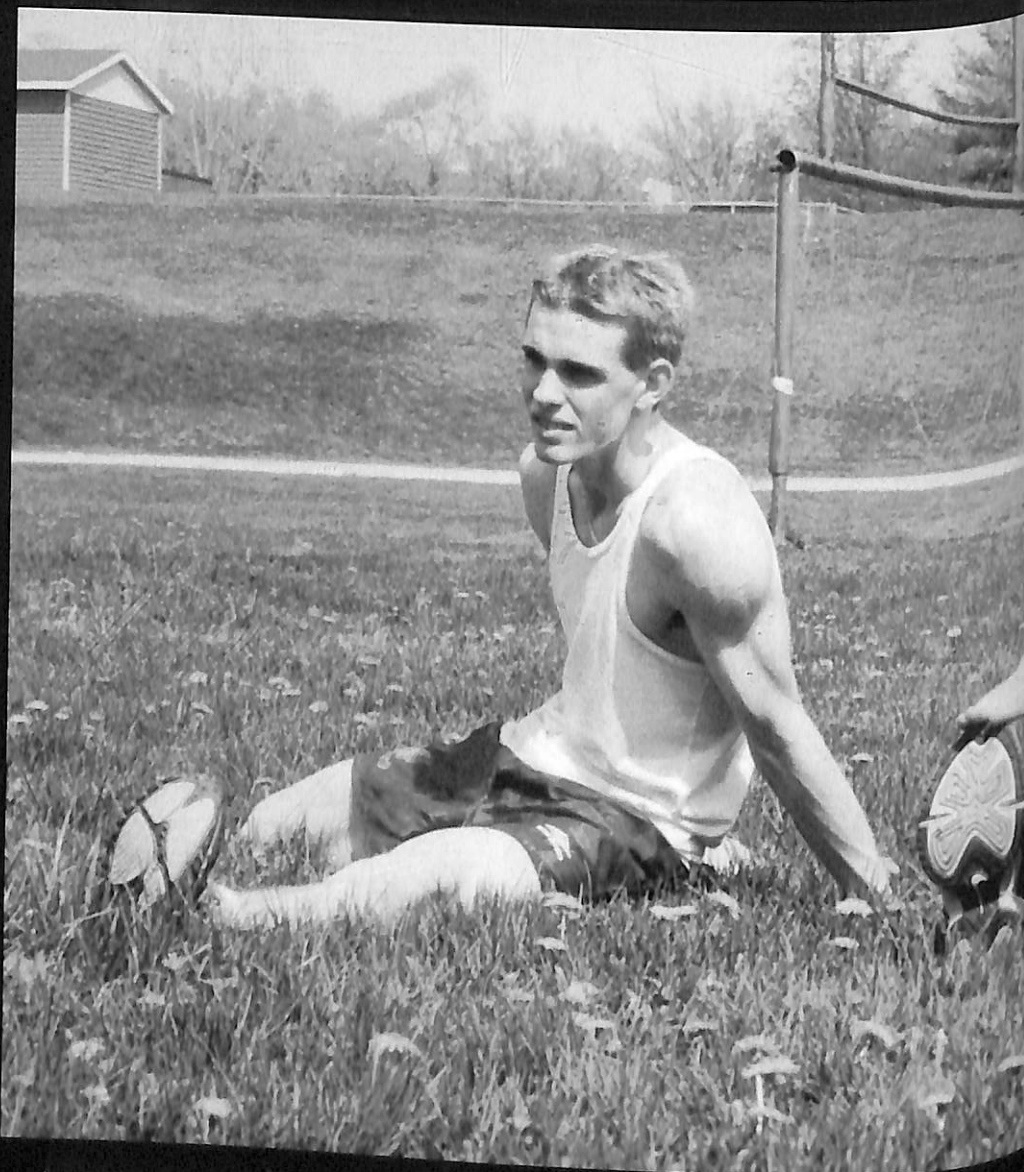

The 2001 North Lambton Track and Field season almost didn't happen. Without a coach, the team wasn't going to be allowed to compete at the county championships, nor would any of the excellent athletes be able to progress to further levels of competition. Thankfully for all our Eagle athletes, Coach Ken Ihlman stepped forward to take on the responsibility for the team, and with a bit of capable assistance from running coach Jason Fuller, the season was completed with honours.

First to LSSAA, where almost all members of the team placed in their respective events. Then to SWOSSAA, where superior performances were put in by all team members. At OFSAA Regionals, it was even better: Blake Faulds, Les McEwen, Pam Miner and Andrew Brouwer all placed in their events, meaning four Eagle athletes were going on to OFSAA -- a remarkable number from such a small school. Other athletes representing our school at the regional competition were David Burr, Jessica Gatschene, and Patty Sutton, unfortunately none placing high enough to proceed to the provincial level.

not just play and games

The Athletic Association started out with a big bang this year with our 2nd Annual Athletic Auction raising almost $6000. The Welcome Week allowed the school to be a part of the olympics by competing in olympic events, Eagle style. Armageddon was bigger and better than it ever had been, showing us who was the strongest in the school. Shoot for the Pizza was next on the itinerary followed by 3-on-3 Basketball, then the Eagle Cup. This year was the second year for the Forrest Gump Classic which turned out to be the longest tournament ever! Overall, this year has been very eventful and we hope that next year will be even better!

love, liberty, disco

If I told you there's somebody who loves you, would you say, "Hey, take me to that place!"?

Youth Alive is, for the most part, a low profile club. Each year our main events have been See You at the Pole, a gathering for prayer for our school in September, and the Penny Drive homeroom challenge, raising money for a local mission. This year we also worked to bring the band, Red Umbrella, into the school for a lunch-time performance. Every once in a while you'll find members out and about, handing out cans of pop, chocolate bars or candy canes.

So what do all of those activities have in common? Basically, the purpose of our club is to represent the love of Jesus to our school. Our goal for 2001 was to build up each member as individuals so that we could, in turn, go out amongst our peers in servanthood, in order to encourage and strengthen the student body. As Christians our most important sources of strength are Bible study, prayer, and worship. We consider it a blessing to have the freedom to seek God on school property. Even moreso, we cherish the opportunity we have had to represent our Lord at North Lambton. My prayer is that, by His grace, students and teachers will look back on this year and remember us as living testimonies of His goodness and love.

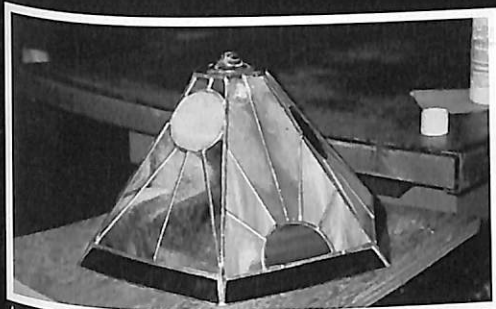

"This is to my Father's glory, that you bear much fruit, showing yourselves to be My disciples ... My command is this: Love each other as I have loved you."

- John 15:8, 12

▲ Stained glass comes together in perfection to form a beautiful lampshade.

▲ A student's final result -- a stylized paving stone for Garnett, shaped, appropriately, in a Bell.

▲ Candleholders and candles, oh my!

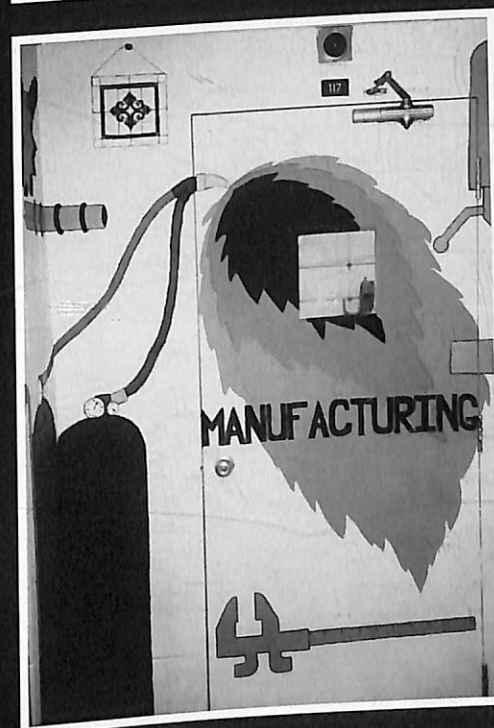

▲ The possibilities when working with stained glass are endless, as shown by this suncatcher.

▲ The door into Mrs. Ward's world. A place of wonder ... and lots of cool machines.

▼ Mrs. Ward supervises as Matt Burnard plays with fire. David Mitton and Brian Scott watch for now, but I think they would rather be having their own turn!

▼ Marcell Chantharath understands that careful precision is necessary to achieve the high quality results he desires.

manufacturing

The Manufacturing Club meets during lunch. The club is open to all students of North Lambton -- whether or not they have taken a technology class. You may like to try your hand at welding, machining or stained glass. Use the time to finish a project from class or create something totally unique.

▲ Member Nick Van Engelen faithfully attends all the meetings each Thursday at lunch.

▶ Patricia Cook stops to smile. She was elected president of Key Club for the 2001-2002 school year, so look out for all the volunteer efforts that will be headed up next year by her.

▼ At the Club Fair, the members of Key Club look to be besieged on all sides by eager students anxious to learn how to volunteer.

hands and feet

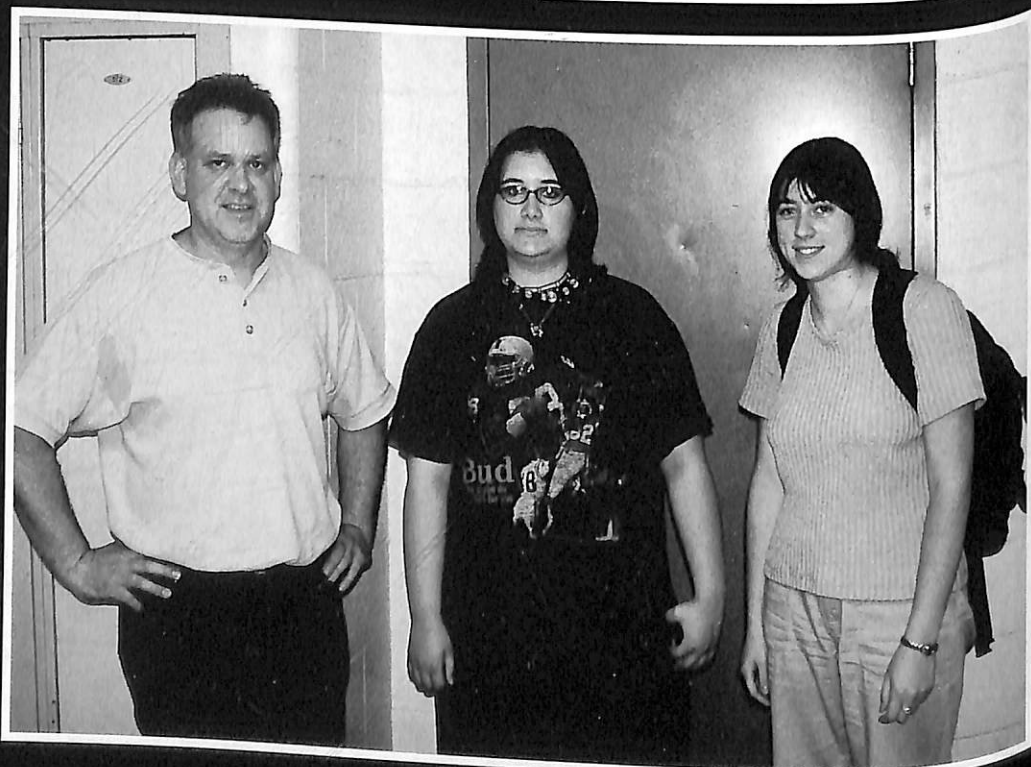

Key Club is a volunteer-based club that meets once a week at lunch. As a club, we do activities around Forest and our school in order to try and improve the community. This year some of our activities have included picking up trash around the school, helping to prepare for commencement, and helping with the Santa Claus parade. Our big project this year was the raffling off of the garden shed. All in all we made about $1500 for the Children's Hospital of Western Ontario. Our members as of this year are:

Executive:

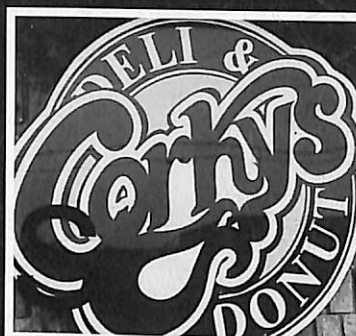

President - Melissa Dale-Hicks
Vice-president - Chelsey Alderson
Secretary - Valerie Faulds
Treasurer - Sylvia Lewis-Havard

Members:

Sarah Van Engelen
Nick Van Engelen
Jared Lean

what will happen when the two collide?

The day has come! This December, Tim Horton's expansion finally hit Forest. While many students (and teachers) are overjoyed to have Timbits on a regular basis, many others have stuck to their roots, preferring the atmosphere of Corky's coffee shop. Can Forest support two donut shops? You be the judge! Here's a rundown of the two cafés.

Tim's Pros: Tim's Cons:

- | | |
|-------------------|---------------------|
| - drive through | - big corporation |
| - Roll Up the Rim | - construction zone |
| - nice and new | |
| - non-smoking | |

Corky's Pros: Corky's Cons:

- | | |
|--------------------|-------------------------------|
| - $4 breakfast | - smoking |
| - good food/coffee | - smaller selection of donuts |
| - casual uniforms | |
| - smoking | |

1. Missy Dale-Hicks: coffee-slinger extraordinaire!

2. At Corky's, Brianne Hutton pours a cup-o-joe.

3. Amy Leystra and Lindsay Jamieson share the corner table at Tim Horton's.

4. Alicia McPherson awaits your order at Corky's.

5. David Vandinther keeps Tim Horton's clean.

6. Justin McKellar waits on a customer in the drive-thru.

7. Melanie Kelders enjoys a $4 breakfast with David Jamrozinski and John Groening.

8. April Bryson experiences the joys of cooking in the kitchen at Corky's.

gourmet

Feeding time at North Lambton has begun, it's time for lots of snacks, feasts, and fun.

As you know, it's cool to eat uptown, Forest has the best restaurants around!

If pizza's what you're craving, you're in for a treat, food from Pizza Club or Godfathers makes lunch complete.

If you think you'd like to eat some fowl, KFC won't let your poor stomach growl.

Students in the mood for foreign cuisine, at a table in Cana China will be seen.

The Beehive and Marian's offer much more, you'll find just what you're looking for.

Those brave enough to go to the outskirts of town, can go to Subway and put their sandwich orders down.

Although Timmy's and Corky's may seem far away, they sell coffee that is made "The Right Way".

If poisson and frites are in your vocabulaire, have some fish at Scotty's, be sure to share!

If Cove'n it is what you would rather do, Huron Cove will make you enjoy every chew.

The Yoke is where lots of students hang out, the student special is what it's all about!

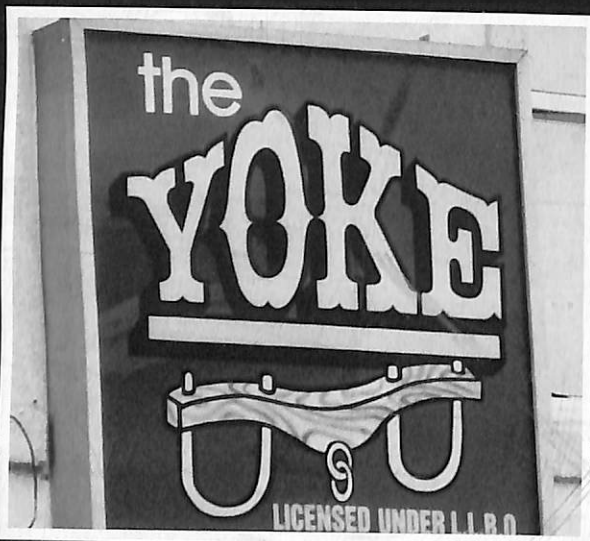

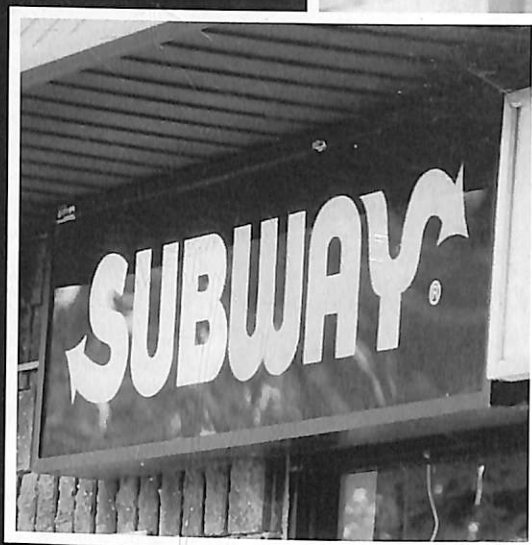

Wherever in town you care to eat, you're sure to be in for quite a treat!!

▲ Sharon Jimson and Julianne DeGroot think KFC is "finger-lickin' good", as they devour a lunch-time meal at the restaurant.

◀ Michelle Elliot & Courtney Young regularly ask for "chicken bawl fwi wice" at Cana China. It seems to be a favourite with many students!

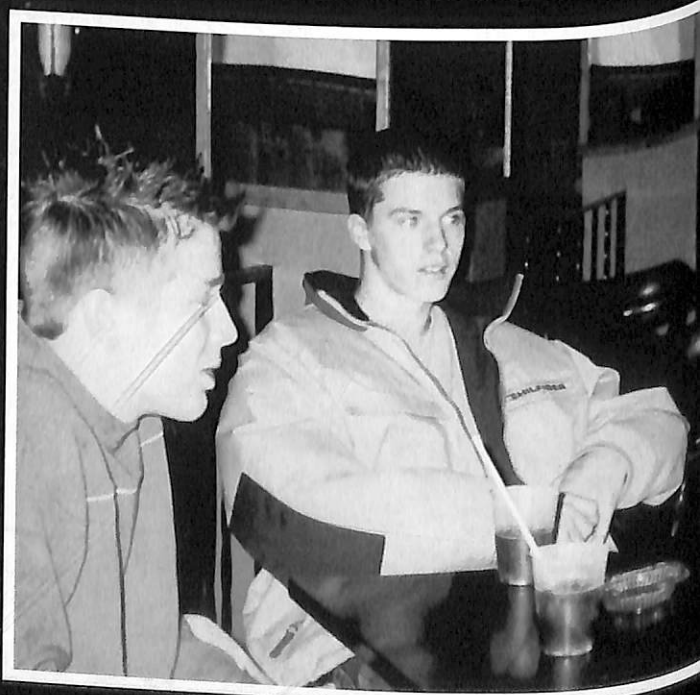

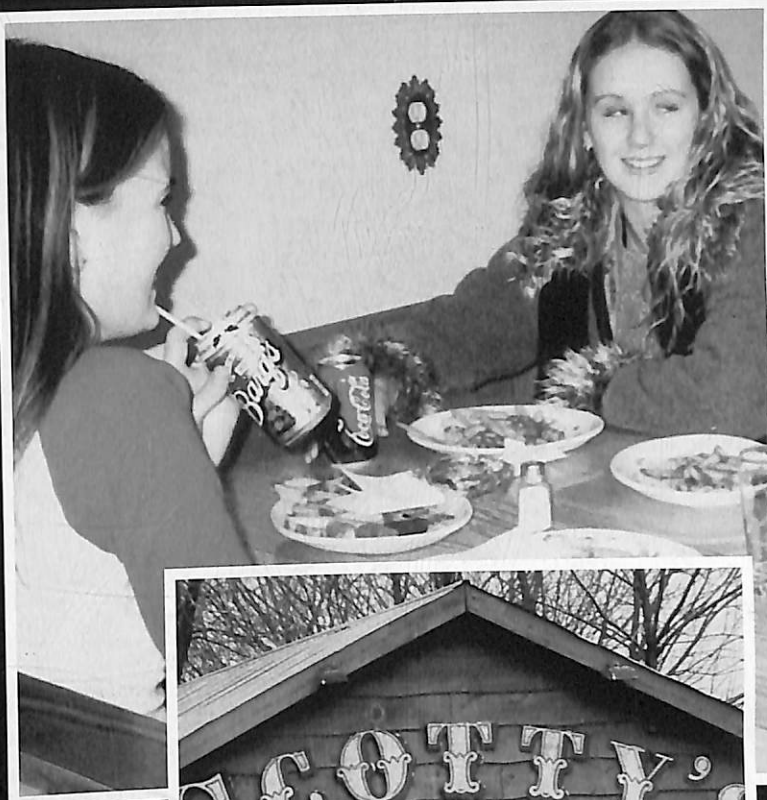

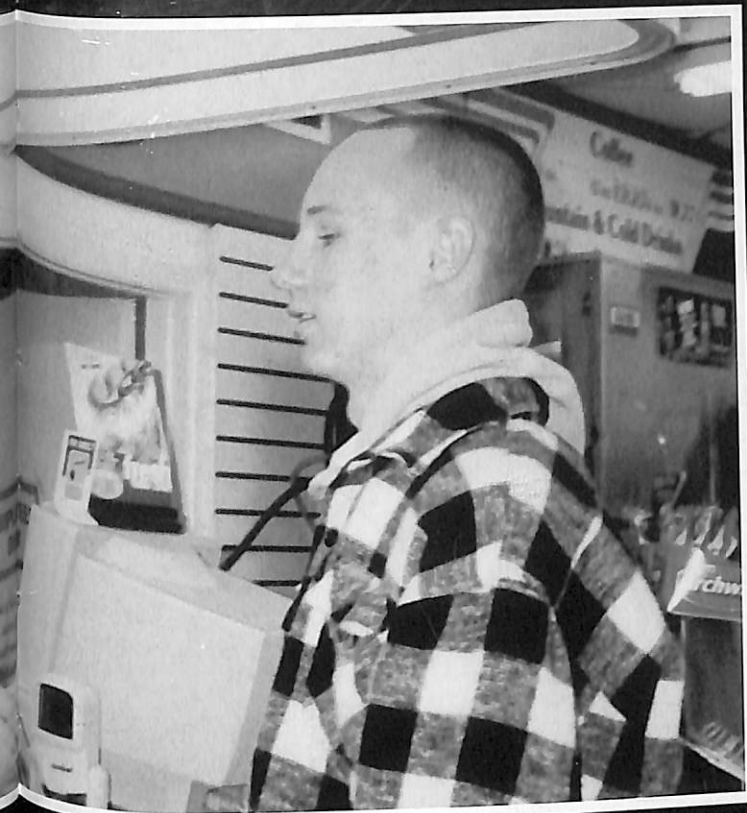

▲ Bobby MacMillan would like a Kid's Pack, and, if possible, the red MicroMachine™ car, not the blue one that he got last week.

▲ Pam Magee and Laura Maxfield stand at the desk of Godfather Pizza - "Can we get some service, please?"

▼ "Double bank, jump, green, red ball, corner pocket ..." Tyler Bragg shows his pool-shooting ability at the Yoke during his lunch hour.

▶ Kelly Hollingsworth doesn't actually mind cleaning after us all that much!

▼ Wow! That's a load of paperwork for Miss D'Alimonte to get through.

Mrs. Fenner

"North Lambton Secondary School has welcomed East Lambton students into our school and we are fortunate to have made so many new friends. The library has seen an increase in classes using the computer lab, career center and library. NLSS received many useful resources from East Lambton, which complimented our library collection."

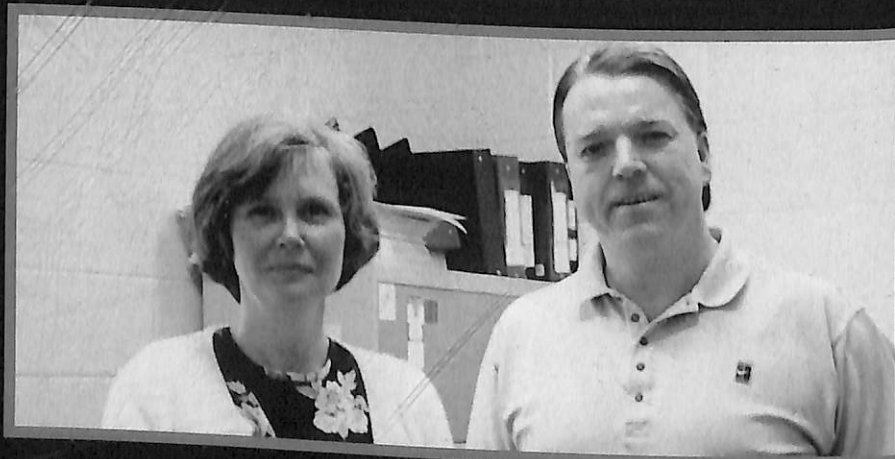

"Life in the office is like a box of chocolates. You never know what's coming next!"

Especially when the yearbook staff is constantly coming in to ask for different lists and names and announcements, eh? Thanks so much for being patient!

Mrs. Jory

▶ Kim Anderson can only pause for a moment for the picture. There's lots to get done before the evening is over.

▶ "Bring us a problem, any problem, and we'll solve it in 15 minutes or less, or your money back!" Mr. Sheeler and Mrs. Willick are always more than happy to help the student body.

▼ We had to wait a long time for a pause in the endless phonecalls and student crisis to actually get all four secretaries together for this picture! Thanks for the tireless work you put into North Lambton "behind the scenes."

▶ Dianne McEwen takes a break, but not for long! The rest of the janitors may be here for fun, but she's here to clean!

Garnett Bell

"Students? They're great! Teachers? ..." Thanks, Garnett, for the great quote! But thanks most of all for your years of dedication. I'm sure both students and teachers are not all that fun to clean up after!

"Mrs. Dawkins, Mrs. Blenkhorn, Mr. Perry, Mrs. Patterson, and Miss D'Alimonte in room 207 are happy to welcome and offer assistance to all students at North Lambton who want help in keeping up with their studies."

"Success at school often depends on getting help when you need it, and identifying and using the correct strategies to allow you to take advantage of your individual learning style."

Mrs. Dawkins

▶ Debbie Vandenboer and Claudette McKay, up-and-coming rock stars, give us a glimpse of what happens after the last bell rings!

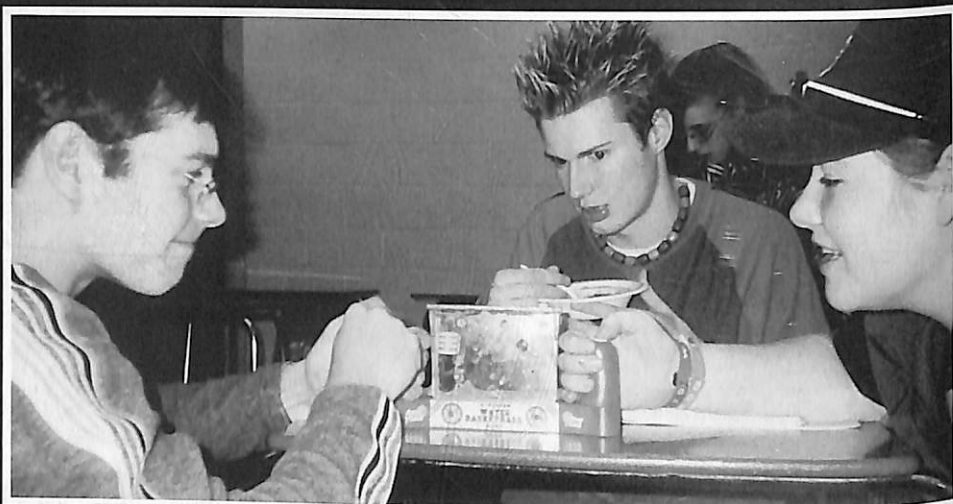

▶ Mrs. Blenkhorn and Mrs. Patterson thought that they were having a bad hair day, until they saw the photographer!

calculuck

What do you get when you cross an OAC Calculus class with a pot-luck? This outrageous event of contests, games, music, and food was held the day before Christmas break. Attendance was high, and some special stars were spotted, including Mr. Fitch, who showed up to try a bowl of steaming chili. Other food brought for the occasion included everything from brownies to mashed potatoes to pop, and much more! Students and teachers alike hope to continue the Calculuck as a yearly tradition.

Adam Kristoferson and Brad Woodward have a chugging contest. That root beer sure burns on the way down, eh, Brad?

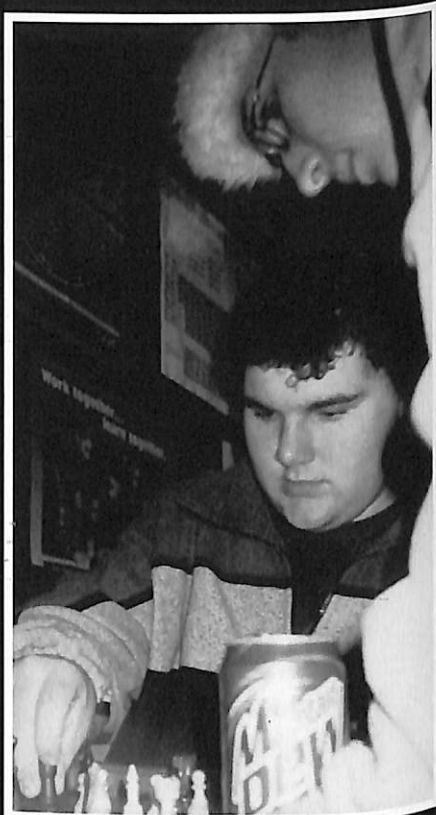

Scott Cates is captivated by Shannon Patterson and Adam Kristoferson's game play.

Mountain Dew and Erik Klaassen preside over a chess game played by Alex Brown.

Mark Eastman skillfully out-plays himself at Water Basketball.

Some people work, some people play, but all are having a great time!

Adam Hawkins and Colleen Fuller hurry to finish a no-handed Brownie Eating Contest.

1. Jessica Henry sets James Branson straight, while Ashley Kelders makes it clear that, "when I say jump, you say, 'how high?'"

2. The company, back: Kim Hutton, Brian Maxfield, Jamie Scherer, Erien Eady-Ward, Brad Marsh, Jonathan Marsh, Tim Adams, Brynn Pearson, Kristen Redmond, Jessica Henry, front: James Branson, Ashley Kelders, Matt Minielly, Kristen Hutton, Jenne Campbell, and Robyn Doolittle.

3. Inspector Erien Eady-Ward tries to sleuth his way into solving the mystery.

4. Jenne Campbell is trigger friendly, so watch out folks!

5. Brynn Pearson has a mouthful to say before she proceeds to super-soak the enemy.

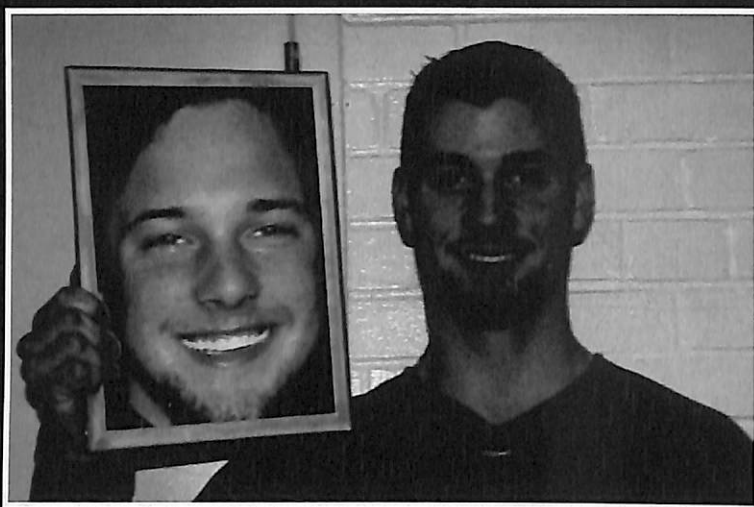

6. The Dynamic Duo: French maid Kimberly Hutten and her husband the butler (Brian Maxfield) once seemed nice, but clearly their diabolical side is beginning to show through.

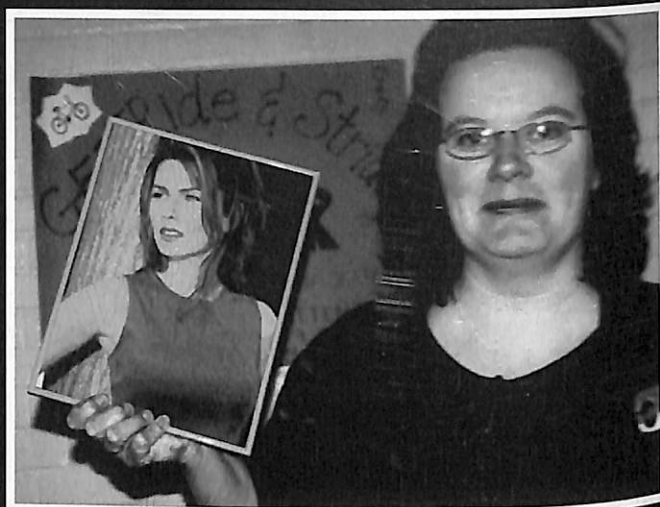

murder mystery, or just plain fun!

That's the portion of humour that was served up by our Drama department as they presented this year's dessert theatre, "And Then There Was One". Imagine ten strangers who are invited to a remote island, only to discover that there is no way off and that a madman is loose. It may sound scary, but this cast and crew of enthusiastic students provided the audience with silly sight-gags and lots of laughs in order to solve the mystery. The cast included: Brian Maxfield, Kimberly Hutton, Jenne Campbell, Brynn Pearson, Erien Eady-Ward, Robyn Doolittle, Jessica Henry, Ashley Kelders, James Branson, and Kristen Redmond. The crew of: Matt Minielly, Tim Adams, Jonathan Marsh, Jamie Scherer, Brad Marshall, as well as Shawn Rumford and Scott Campbell kept the lights, sounds, and gags going. This show was produced and directed by Mr. Dan Dumais. Congratulations to the cast and crew!

Among the Eagles found in our halls and classes there will, no doubt, be celebrities who will one day soon, be rising to their place in the spotlight. Some students, and teachers, however, have won half the battle already by looking (and in some cases acting) the part of a star.

Is that Natalie Portman, or Anne Gadsden walking uptown? Has Leanne Rymes decided to visit North Lambton, or is that Ashley Degroot? Betty Boop's human twin, Jenny McFarlane, can be spotted in classrooms all over the school!

Some of these look-alikes may cause you to question the frequencies of mix-ups at birth. Just take a look at the startling similarities between people walking the halls, and those who appear on the silver screen.

Shirley Temple
and Mr. Moloy: Surely this isn't Shirley!

1. Adam faces the camera like he faces yogurt at Knechtels.
2. Erik Prout and Taran Spruyt go about their kitchen duties at Forest Golf and Country.
3. Katie Vanos and her twin clean at Forest Golf and Country.
4. Andrew Hodgson teases the cattle at his family farm.
5. Darcy Huyben works hard as an apprentice to Dr. Hannibal Ector.
6. Krystle Holman, Kevin Emery, and Aaron Karr (at KFC) would only pose. Yawn!
7. Amy Leystra spreads cheese on a pizza at Godfathers.

Why do students get jobs? We all know the reason: cold, hard cash. All around North Lambton you can hear this common complaint, "Awww, man! I'm broke!" This tragic circumstance is the leading cause of students seeking after-school employment. Even more tragic, however, are the consequences that come from having a job, like the increased responsibility rate. This is inevitable when a student gets a job — whether it means just being on time more often or finishing an assignment three days in advance so they don't have to stay up until six the morning it is due. Another consequence of getting a job is the loss of the exciting social life that the work was intended to preserve. You may now have ten dollars to go to the movies, but unfortunately you have to be at work from five until ten Saturday night. Good luck getting one of your co-workers to take the shift. They're all teenagers and want to go out too.

Lastly, after acquiring a job, you can look forward to being darn tired all the time! On top of your normal six hours of school each day, you get another five hours at work, with homework to top it all off! After an eleven hour workday a bed (even an empty one) looks very appealing!

Remember back in the day, back when we were children? When the world was a playground and teeter totters were allowed?! Well, the good times, those carefree days are far from over.

No matter the age, no matter the position, everyone at North Lambton can be caught playing once in a while. Eagles know how to forge about schoolwork, homework and work long enough to try something new and wacky, to use our imaginations or to simply run around laughing. Although we're young adults we're mostly young at heart!

1. Mark Eastman is fine with having his picture taken, but Louise Merrit isn't quite so sure!

2. Students play inside the school and out. This group is having a day of fun at the Ontario Science Centre in Toronto.

3. Also at the Science Centre, Melanie George pilots the ship alongside Brad Blenkhorn, while Chris Wilmer waits his turn.

4. Is Mrs. Dawkins trying her legs at both skateboarding and karate at the same time?

5. Jeff Daubs finds his bookbag's zipper more interesting than the lecture at the front of the class. (Surprising, eh?)

6. The Jackson brothers always work as a team, especially when they're pinning Maggie McKillop to the caf benches.

7. Chenoa Lunham, Sally George, Tuesday George, Cheryl George, Melanie George, Valerie George, Kim Bressette, Phoebe Bressette, and Sarah-Rose George: a towering presence in any room.

8. Ryan Hill, Jeffrey Holmes and Veronica Milne are all set to blast off.

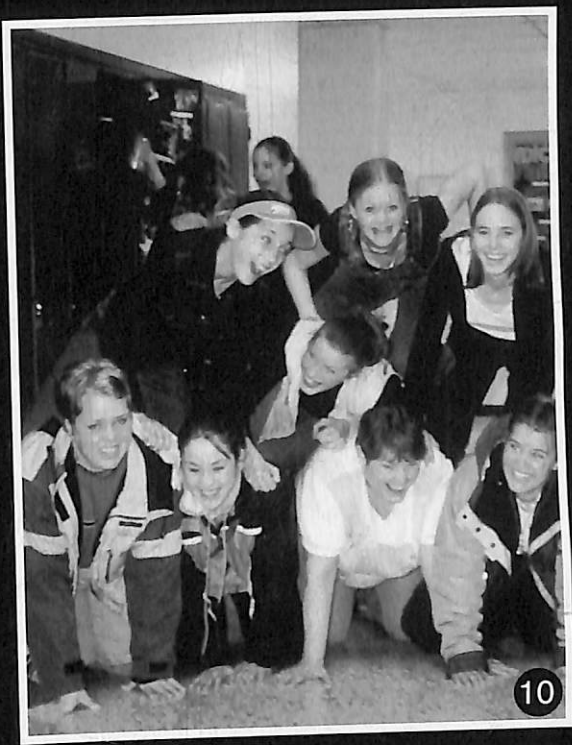

And it's a good thing we are. Who could bear school if we didn't create our own recesses and playtime?
 So here's to play! May these pages remind you of the truly great high school moments. And may they encourage you to continue in kindergarten traditions forevermore. "I don't want to grow up. I'm a Toys 'R' Us kid ..." It's even better than being an Oscar Meyer weiner!

9. No, Melanie George does not work for Mary Kay. She's just "touching up" with her friend Sarahrose George.
 10. This tower thing seems to be common at North Lambton! Katie Daubs, Sheryl Smits, Rebecca Healy, Andrea Brouwer, Terrin Brush, Tara Mason, Mrs. Kaemph and Amy Leystra are all aspiring circus performers.
 11. Brad Blenkhorn and Gordon Brownlee are hard at work on "Game Day" making their own masterpiece. The marketing team estimates it will outsell Monopoly in 2002.
 12. "I am Buzz Light Year, I come in peace." Well, maybe she's not aiming for infinity, but where else would she go?
 13. Colin Henderson tries to look inconspicuous after sticking his pencil in a plug.
 14. Mike Bragg and Scott Cates mix chemistry with canines to make "Shadow Puppets of Learning."
 15. Teachers get to play too. Mrs. Leystra is having the time of her life marking student work! Well ... we could be wrong about this one.

The Things I Knew

*I knew so much about you,
Your likes, dislikes and fears
I knew you were a true friend,
And our friendship would last for years.*

*I knew you had the best advice,
And that you always shared.
I knew how much you loved me,
And that you always cared.*

*I knew what you liked on your pizza,
Medium, large or small.
We were always on the phone,
And I knew when you would call.*

*I knew so much about you,
What boys you thought were cute.
Happy or sad, scared or mad,
I knew everything about you.*

*I knew your favourite lip gloss,
Or how you wanted your hair cut.
I knew when you wanted to say something,
But just kept your mouth shut.*

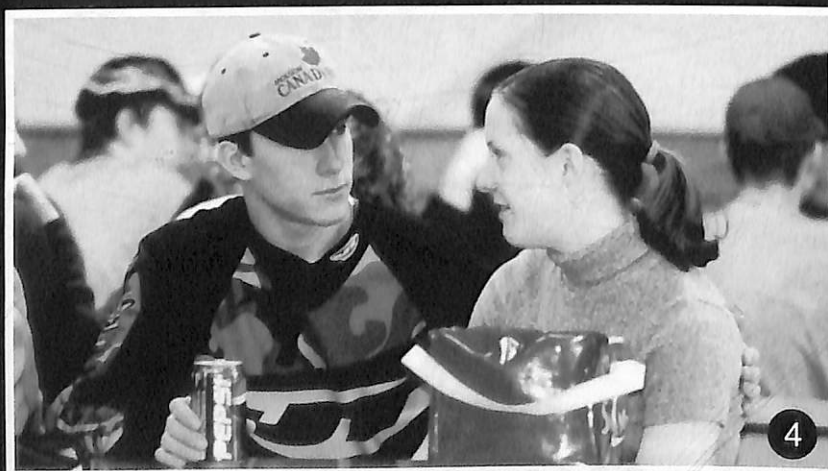

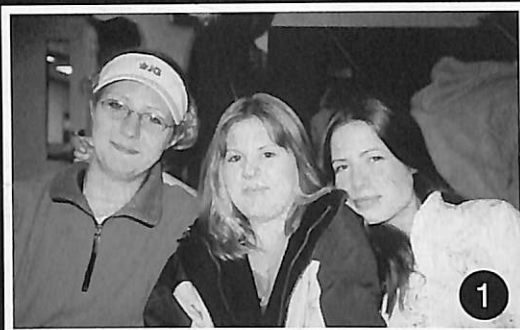

*I knew what your every smile meant,
And what your laughs meant too.
I knew the twinkle in your eye,
I knew you through and through.*

*I knew you would be there,
With a smile on your face.
You would make my problems disappear,
With a laugh and an embrace.*

*But I guess what I thought I knew,
I didn't know at all.
I never thought my best friend,
Would not be there to call.*

*Yet even though I can't see you now,
I still will always know,
That our friendship will last forever,
And it will always grow.*

I will always love and miss you!

Least Favourite Equipment: The old computer's keyboard Favourite Page: composite page Favourite Picture: Scooter and the vicious plunger (that did make it in right?) (September's Note: clearly!)
of Trips to Card Shop: about 10, you lose count Parting Words: break, split, divide, separate, detach, disconnect ... Seriously though, watch out for lost people, they will find their way to the yearbook room, we may not be sure how -- but it does happen.

Photography

Least Favourite Equipment: computer Favourite Page: Italy & Greece spread!
Favourite Picture: Erik's collage
of Trips to Card Shop: 8
Parting Words: We should definitely have gotten paid for this! (September's Note: tis true! However someday I'll make sure you get many boxes of chocolates for all the times you saved the day by remembering to show up places with your camera -- even if you did lose the lens cap!)

Colleen Fuller
Photography

Least Favourite Equipment: "lighting" board Favourite Page: any that were in too bad of taste to actually use Favourite Picture: Mr. Farquharson, Mrs. Oreskovich.
of Trips to Card Shop: > 50 (September's Note: IOU!)
Parting Words: the best part of being on yearbook is ... I can write anything I want too here, and you have to read it, no matter how silly it is. I can write shamalamiticky N!! and you are stuck reading it. Oooo ... basking in the glory and the power ...

Favourite Piece of Equip: post-it notes are great!
Least Favourite Piece of Equip: camera, computer, cropper, blue pencils, etc.
of Trips to Card Shop: 4
Favourite Yearbook Memory: actually knowing I helped to make something work.
Parting Words: Go Yearbook! So, I'm Kara, some yearbook members think I'm crazy, but no. What have I done for this year's yearbook? Well, if you see a crazy caption that makes no sense? I probably wrote it!

Congratulations to the entire 2000-2001 Yearbook staff for a job done incredibly well! I don't believe anyone can appreciate the dedication and expertise required to complete a project such as this one. Thank-you to each and every member of the staff - whether you contributed one hour or a hundred, you helped to create a superb yearbook. A special thanks to September Teeple (Design Editor) for the countless hours spent creating & maintaining the theme of the yearbook - and for heading up a wonderful design team. Yes, you were picky - and that's what made the design wonderful. A special thank-you also to Wesley Burr (Technical Editor) for the equally countless hours of computer time. As you told me many times - you might not be able to draw a stick person - but you were a Picasso with the software Yearbook required. To the Team Leaders: Robin Backx (Journalism) and Dyan Kidd (Photography) - a job well done! It has been a pleasure to work with all of you! Your accomplishments are memorable.

Least Favourite Equipment: pica ruler Favourite Page: all of them!
Favourite Picture: the last one?
of Trips to Card Shop: maybe 3
Parting Words: what can I say ... ? It was a blast! (September's Note: especially the day right after a missed deadline, eh?! I think that the stressed among us would have died without you and Kara to lighten things up -- especially with your chicken ceasar salads. What would we have done without second years?)

June Russell
Design & Layout

Least Favourite Equipment: the cropper!
Favourite Page: the collage (go Erk!) and the celebrity look-alikes because I wrote the captions (tee, hee)
Favourite Picture: Matt van Englen with his crazy hair
Parting Words: this year's yearbook rocks and is by far the best ever! Good luck to all future yearbook members, I know now the dedication and stress involved (this one's for you, September). It's been a blast - did we ever meet a deadline? Tee, hee. Luv all of ya! (September's Note: ah! Love you too, June!)

Robin Backx
Journalism Leader

Least Favourite Equipment: the computer; I hate computers!
Favourite Page: the look alike page was cool, and a lot of fun to work on! (September's Note: thanks for all the last-minute articles, glad to know some pages were fun to work on!)

Favourite Picture: the ones that are funny -- people with their heads chopped off, if they have something like a bar in front of them!

of Trips to Card Shop: 4

First, I'd like to say that this yearbook is dedicated to Miss Sippel and Martin Smith, without whom I could never have finished. Never before have I taken on such a time-consuming role as being yearbook co-editor. It is certainly one of those positions that no one can appreciate until they have held it. It taught me a great deal about leadership, perseverance, integrity, and, of course, worlds about patience. But even more importantly, it has taught me a whole lot about you.

Some of you might find it strange to know that I can walk the halls and name most of you, even if you don't know me. And that's not even the heart of what I now understand about North Lambton. At the end of this year I look back and realize that I have a better idea of which teachers have really impacted our student body, who's friends with whom, which of you are involved in "behind the scenes" clubs, what issues are really relevant in your lives, and what school events you enjoy the most. Basically, I've learned what Eagle pride truly is. I hope that all of my learning has resulted in a yearbook which fully portrays what this year meant to you as an individual. It is only one of the pieces in your high school remembrances, but I hope that it is one you will always treasure. September Teeple

When I started this job, I had never once job, I've been in there so many times camp out. Running uptown for pictures was on yearbook staff "enjoyed" doing as the office" mentality that the orange carpet inspires the cropping tools we were gifted with; an agree-ons"; and even a common element of humour as we the student population of North Lambton performed this past year I have seen and heard many funny things. Some incredible work was done by a lot of people, and all in all, I can say it was quite an experience working with the people of the yearbook staff this past year. We didn't agree all the time, and we certainly took some time settling down and learning to work as a team but it was a team effort that finished this book, and I think the eclectic nature of the pages within it represent that quite accurately.

Looking back at the end of this year, I'm glad I took on the position of co-editor and helped make the yearbook what it is. We look back at this past year and say (with some justifiable pride) that this is the finest yearbook in many years. It is our hope that upon reading this book, you will agree.
